PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Stella Axarlis AM

The members who attended our Annual General Meeting were most impressed with the meeting, which was very gratifying.

As President I stepped down and Ann Davie kindly took the Chair for the appointment of President. There being no other nominations I was elected to continue as President. Peter Paul was nominated as Vice President and we were delighted that he accepted and was duly appointed unopposed. There followed the reelection of Tom O'Dea as Treasurer and Membership Secretary, Christine Grayden as Secretary, David Maunders as Newsletter Editor, Gaye Cleeland (Phillip Island and District Historical Society) and Irene McKell (Friends of Koalas). Pauline Taylor replaces Ann Davie as the representative of the Conservation Society.

To all the newly appointed Executive my sincere thank you for accepting their appointments. A big thank you also to Ann Davie whose contribution is always invaluable.

Our Key Note Speaker Arnis Heisters was impressive with his presentation of holidays with his family on Churchill Island and Christine has summarized his talk in the minutes. He contributed so much to the success of the meeting.

Our thanks also to Matthew Jackson whose transparent and embracing Leadership has been inspirational during what was a very difficult year. His continued support of FOCIS has been gratifying and in particular we thank him for offering another Grant to enable Christine Grayden to continue as Curator. When I see the body of work that Christine achieved in the past year I know that PINP will again be satisfied with her outcomes.

To the volunteers who continue to support to maintain and enhance Churchill Island thank you. Both as President and member of the Board of Phillip Island Nature Parks I know your work is valued and that the success of Churchill Island is largely due to your efforts. We need you to continue and encourage more members to volunteer.

Finally tickets for the MSO concert on the Saturday 2 February will soon become available and I urge you all to come. It should be a magical afternoon and I for one see it as a fulfillment of one of my dreams.

Our next meeting will be on Saturday 10 November please attend. Rebecca Saunders will be our Key Note Speaker to give us an update on her PhD on the History of Churchill Island

With my very best wishes,

Stella

CURATOR'S REPORT

Christine Grayden

I had an annual review with CEO Matt Jackson, Operations Manager Damian Prendergast and Farm Manager Trevor Haywood. I showed them the stocktaking, cataloguing and archiving I have done and we walked around the buildings with a list of maintenance, repair and drainage jobs I had that need doing. The PINP maintenance crew have commenced doing the jobs. Painting will be done when the weather improves. The Amess half cellar has been blocked off as the steps are an OHS issue and the alternative was to replace the historic wooden steps with concrete ones. Matt, Damian and Trevor are happy with my progress.

David Maunders and I attended a cataloguing workshop to learn how to catalogue the Churchill Island collection onto the Victorian Collections online cataloguing program. Thanks mainly to David we now have over 30 items online. You can see them at www.victoriancollections.net.au We are now using Victorian Collections as our digitised cataloguing system.

Deakin University Heritage and Museum studies post graduate student Sandra Kanis (pictured) volunteering here on Fridays for work experience. So far she has sorted out the photo albums and created an A3 pocket folder of newspaper cuttings all in chronological order. Now she is cataloguing Jenkins era documents which we found in another A3 folder in the filing cabinets. She also did Victorian Collections training and will put the Jenkins era documents online once she has finished the catalogue sheets. She seems to be enjoying working here. Thanks to PINP for supplying her with lunch, and to PINP and FOCIS who are each paying her $20 per week travel, since she drives an hour and forty minutes each way from Sandringham.

I gave a lunch time talk to 60 ladies from the VIEW club on the Janet Amess lace collection, and passed around some samples in sealed plastic bags. VIEW stands for Voice, Information and Education for Women. They fundraise for the Smith Family and knit and sew garments for refugee children. They enjoyed their talk and the lace.

We have a new volunteer: Cora Van Dijk from Rhyll, a pattern cutter and seamstress by trade who has sorted all the guides costumes for us and is now repairing them. She has hung all items in the Volunteers

Centre wardrobe on padded hangers. Cora is planning to dress up in servants' clothes and clean the house once a week, so that will be great. Pat Jeffery and her helper Annette continue to clean the house voluntarily three times a week, but Annette will soon be leaving the island.

Pat, Issie and I will be visiting Ambleside House in Ferntree Gully which is run by volunteers from the Knox Historical Society. It is similar to us in that it features historic buildings, farm machinery and gardens. They are providing us with lunch and a tour.

CI had a visit from Anne Shembry, direct descendent of the Rogers, and her husband Charlie. They have the family bible which includes the family tree and other information, which they will bring to show us one meeting.

I have been working to get the donations and loans documentation

Seed drill—one of the items catalogued

up to date and legal. There are more questions than answers in this work so far, but I'm gradually winning!

Working bee for inside of house, Sat 15 Sep, 8-10 a.m.

Finally there is a reunion being planned of those remaining who used to visit the Jenkins and Sister Campbell when they owned CI. It is planned for Sunday 7th October, and will be a wonderful opportunity for me and any helpers available on the day to get stories and hopefully scan photos of the era.

PHILLIP ISLAND NATURE PARK REPORT

Matthew Jackson, CEO

Firstly may I take this opportunity to again thank FOCIS for their ongoing support. Overall, the Nature Parks finished last financial year with just over 4,500 visitors up and a modest surplus. However, due to a late liability relating to a defined benefits superannuation fund recovery of $771,000 will now report the Park in a loss position for the first time in over 7 years. These costs result from losses in a specific superannuation fund over the past three years and this Super fund dates back to 1993 for the Nature Parks when it was the Penguin Reserve.

This year's budget was extremely tight due to a tough economic outlook and the tourism industry showing flat forecasts including reductions in key international markets such as UK and USA and the ongoing effects of the high Australian Dollar continue. So a very challenging year for the Park.

However despite these challenges, the Nature Parks has committed to a further 12 months term towards the $13K grant funding for the Curator position. Christine Grayden continues in the role and may I congratulate Christine for her efforts over the past 12 months and the excellent work that has been achieved.

The Park will soon commence a 6 months "Key Area Plan" for Churchill Island (action from the Strategic Plan 2012-2017), with a vision to be developed for the next 10-15 years. FOCIS and public participation will be welcomed in the process.

The Board has approved the Environment Plan 2012-2017. Thank you to (continued on p.7) tory and Her Story. David gave reasons why FOCIS should pay for the printing of the revised edition. Tom stated the information on costs was incomplete.

Discussion: concern expressed at this being a precedent for FOCIS to be asked to print other books. Pat's book was well researched and recent so qualified for our support. Question: what had happened to the e-book idea? Concern that we did not have all of the costs for the printed version.

"That we fund Pat Baird's book: Churchill Island: History and Her Story, to an upper limit of $5,000 AUD, plus $1400 contributed by PINP for 200 copies @ $7 per copy.

Should the costs exceed this limit, the case will be returned to FOCIS members at the next general meeting to decide.

David Maunders/Anne Davie carried.

11. Speaker:

Arnis Heislars was employed at the National Parks Service from 1975. His office was a few rooms down the corridor from that of Col Ian Wilton, Director of Victorian Conservation Trust, which had been set up to transfer privately owned land into the public estate. Ian worked alone, and Arnis sometimes assisted him. This was a vibrant time in Victoria's political life, with Dick Hamer as Premier and the committed Ian Borthwick as Minister for Conservation. The government purchased Churchill Island at auction in 1976, and before there was any management in place, Ministry staff were invited to spend holidays there as a security presence.

Arnis, his wife and four children aged 4 yrs to 11 yrs, spent a week there in the holiday period. The buildings were run down and neglected, being filled with rubbish, old papers, rats and mice. They cleaned out what is now the nursery and slept there on lilos as this seemed to be the room most secure from vermin. The island itself was really run-down, infested with rabbits and foxes.

Erosion from rabbit burrows was evident, large box-thorns were present along much of the coast, and no regeneration was possible due to the rabbits.

Arnis recently asked his older children what they remembered of their holidays. They recalled the beautiful morning walks and the calling of the curlews on the mudflats. The isolation was also evident: it felt like they were in a different world. The island could only be accessed at low tide.

Arnis showed photos from the family holiday which clearly illustrated the run-down and rabbit infested nature of the place. He showed slides of the Robert Ingpen paintings done in the early days of government ownership as fundraisers for Churchill Island, and contrasting aerial photos from 1957, the 1970s, 1980s, and the present day. It was fascinating to see the great improvements made to the landscape and buildings over that time. Stella asked Arnis how he felt about Churchill Island now, compared with the time of their holiday in 1975, and Arnis replied that he felt very good about everything that had happened to improve the island. The differences he particularly notes are the pasture improvements, the building restoration, the complete removal of rabbits and foxes, and the current large number of Cape Barren Geese.

Stella thanked Arnis for his fascinating talk, and for sharing his family photos and Churchill Island holiday memories

NATURE PARK REPORT (from p.3)

FOCIS for providing a submission towards the Plan. In total there were 28 formal submissions with over 250 stakeholders engaged in the development of the Plan including open community sessions.

The Board has also approved its Reconciliation Action Plan and this document has now gone to Reconciliation Australia for final endorsement. There will be a formal launch at a later date to recognise this key milestone in the Parks reconciliation journey.

The Penguin Foundation will launch its new website shortly, with significant upgrades primarily to content and information for past projects funded by the Foundation. The Park has commenced an upgrade to www.penguins.org.au and this will be launched in September 2012.

Melbourne Symphony Orchestra (MSO) is scheduled for the 2nd of February 2013. Tickets will go on sale within the next 6-8 weeks. As previously discussed with FOCIS, due to the large infrastructure being assembled for the MSO on site, a family music day is also now scheduled for the 12th January.

Management has received a proposal to accommodate up to 500 Tough Mudder entrants on Churchill Island (lower paddock over the first cattle grid only) for the event scheduled in January 2013. This is due to the lack of accommodation available on Phillip Island during this peak visitation period.

Management will consider this proposal seriously and will take into consideration all risks associated with this type of use for Churchill Island, however this is an opportunity for the Park to raise revenue and is a one off event request. Management can assure FOCIS if this proposal was to proceed, a series of restrictions and proactive measures will be put in place to ensure the integrity of Churchill Island and that its assets are protected.

Management has also entered the Koala Conservation Centre into the National Disability Awards as well as the Nature Parks into the Governor's Export Awards for exporting its attractions on a global basis.

I look forward to working with FOCIS directly moving forward and preserving Churchill Island for future generations.

TAX DEDUCTIBILITY STATUS

Tom O'Dea, Treasurer

This article has been written in response to questions from members about the Society's tax deductibility status

Donations

When we send out membership renewal notices we invite members to donate to the Society. Last financial year we received $875 in donations from members. Thank you very much to all those who have donated. You will notice that there is no mention on the membership form of tax deductibility for these donations. In order to have a tax deductibility statement on the form, we need to be endorsed by the Tax Office as DGR organisation (Donor Gift Recipient) or to have a Public Fund which has been endorsed as a DGR Fund.

We have submitted an application for a Public Fund called the FOCIS Churchill Island Heritage Fund to be accepted for listing on the Register of Cultural Organisations (ROCO). Once the Fund has been accepted for listing, the Fund will then be endorsed by the Tax Office as a DGR Fund and we can then include the following statement when we invite members of the public and members of the Society to donate to the Fund:

The FOCIS Churchill Island Heritage Fund is an endorsed DGR (Deductible Gift Recipient) fund with the Australian Taxation Office (ABN: 78667051020). It is listed on the Register of Cultural Organisations maintained under Subdivision 30-B of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. Donations of $2.00 or more are tax-deductible.

Receipts

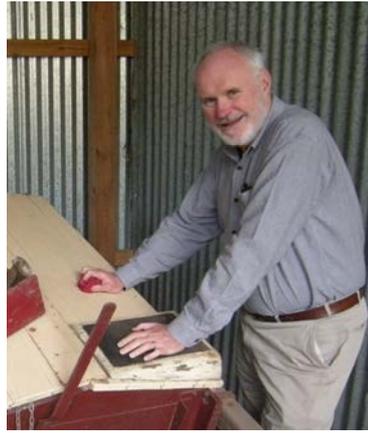

If someone asks for a receipt for their subscriptions or for their donation, then I am happy to issue a receipt. However, it can't be called a Tax Receipt.

If I were to issue a receipt for every donation this would encourage the belief that the donation was a legitimate tax deduction. Depending on your personal circumstances, it's most likely that this is not the case. If you wish to claim a tax (continued on p.8) deduction for your membership subscription or for your donation you should seek professional advice as to whether your claim would be accepted.

In the future, if the FOCIS Churchill Island Heritage Fund is accepted as a DGR Fund, then a Tax Receipt MUST be issued for each donation to the Fund. You can then use that to support your legitimate claim for a tax deduction.
