Letter from our President:

Dear Members,

I hope you will be able to attend the Annual General Meeting for 2022. This will be my last report as President as I will be retiring from the Committee after that meeting.

It has been a great pleasure to have been involved with FOCIS over the years and I have enjoyed my time as President, though I must say the last two or three years have had their challenges.

Through all this time and the changes that have taken place, FOCIS has survived, and I believe grown stronger.

There have been many changes to the Nature Park Staff over the last few years, but all along we have received help and support, particularly from the Staff on Churchill Island. Our thanks to you all.

This year has been eventful with the launch of the third edition of Pat Baird's book "Churchill Island and Her History", which was updated by Christine Grayden and David Maunders, who did a magnificent job. Also, on the same day the unveiling and launch of the Tipping Dray, and showing the wonderful work done by Jeff Cole, and his helpers.

Christine and David have also written a short play "Whispers from the Past" to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the building of Amess House and the planting of the Homestead Tree.

May I wish FOCIS continue its great work on Churchill Island to preserve the Heritage, and to the Members good wishes and keep up the good work.

Graeme Clausen

“Whispers from the past” – Special September event!

To celebrate the 150th anniversary of the building of Amess House and the planting of the massive Norfolk Island Pine known as the ‘Homestead Tree’, FOCIS is presenting a short play written by David Maunders and Christine Grayden, to be performed on Sunday 18 September, 11.30 a.m. and 1.30 p.m. The play comprises six scenes based on information in our book, Churchill Island History and Her Story. Being directed by David Maunders, the play will be performed on the Amess House veranda or in the Churchill Island shearing shed if wet. A large banner featuring a picture of Amess House veranda has been ordered to set the scene in the shearing shed if needed. Our thanks to local photographer Gary Parnell for donating a beautiful image of the Amess House veranda for the backdrop.

The cast have learned their parts well and have prepared costumes of the period. Below are Helena, Kate, and Don and Mike, rehearsing recently on a cold, wet day inside the CI shearing shed.

Photos: David Maunders, John Eddy.

A special video with the play set both inside the house and on the veranda, will be made by Cape Woolamai resident Terry Melvin with assistance Simon Eddy, to be available within the next few months for anyone to watch on the FOCIS YouTube channel.

We live in uncertain times so please let our secretary know that you are coming to one of the performances in case we need to tell you if circumstances change. secretary@focis.org.au Also if you can, please check our Churchill Island Friends Facebook page from 9 AM on the morning of 18th September when we will confirm if the performances will proceed, or if unforeseen circumstances prevent that happening.

Nevertheless we are looking forward to seeing lots of you there!

Restoration projects – by FOCIS member Jeff Cole and the other Churchill Island Restoration volunteers

Our restorers have been busy working on several projects. The rickety little old cupboard from the scullery has been pulled apart, sanded, re-varnished and put back together. You will see a difference when next you visit. Here is the cupboard before work and during work, which took place in Amess barn for all to see:

Other work being done in Amess barn is the cleaning up of Churchill Island's collection of milk and cream cans, to become part of a "dairy trail" within the historic precinct. Here is the collection of cans before and 2 of them following de-rusting and painting to protect them against the harsh salt air.

Large print edition of Churchill Island History and Her Story now out!

Thanks to a Quick Response Grant from Bass Coast Shire Council, FOCIS has been able to print 20 copies of this large print format. FOCIS will donate copies to the local nursing homes, library service and secondary schools. Both versions are available for purchase from the FOCIS website here: <https://focis.org.au/online-shop/> or phone the FOCIS shopkeeper Christine Grayden on 0400 900 612. If you would like to view the book you can do so at Turn the Page bookshop in Cowes. Proprietor Brendan is pictured with Christine in the bookshop with the display copy.

Would you or someone you know like to contribute as a FOCIS committee member? Want to know what is involved?

FOCIS committee meets quarterly at the Churchill Island visitor centre function room, or sometimes in local committee members private homes. During lockdowns, meetings have been held via the FOCIS zoom account.

Committee meetings go from 11:30 AM until approximately 12:45 PM on the same day that the general meeting starts at 1:30 PM and usually finishes by 3:30-4.00 PM. Lunch is provided or purchased in the café.

The FOCIS committee works collaboratively in a welcoming atmosphere. Feel free to ask any questions or give your input during meetings and to the president or secretary at any time!

- The FOCIS website holds much information to assist you, including an extensive “About Us” section where you will find the FOCIS Constitution and other valuable committee-related information. The website also holds an archive of our newsletters back to 1998 and considerable information about the history of Churchill Island in the “About the Island” section. The fully revised 3rd edition of the Churchill Island Street book: Churchill Island History and Her Story is also available to committee members.
- Since FOCIS has been a registered charity since 2013 and receives tax-deductible donations, our annual reports to the Australian Charities and Not for Profits Commission (ACNC) can be found here:

<https://www.acnc.gov.au/charity/charities/881ad63e-38af-e811-a960-000d3ad24282/profile> The ACNC also has very clear guidance information for committee members of small charities on their website here:

There are lots of ways you could contribute as a committee member:

You may have skills you would like to contribute. So many reasons to join the FOCIS committee! Plus Churchill Island is a beautiful place to volunteer! Why not put your hand up at the Forthcoming Annual General Meeting? We would love to have you on board!

Several clutches of Cape Barren goslings can be seen around Churchill Island, growing like Topsy!

With all these peahens to keep our peacock company it won't be long before the patter of little peacock feet!

FOCIS catches up with Phillip Island nature Parks staff –

A happy and productive administrative catch-up was held recently between FOCIS and Churchill Island's managers, Phillip Island Nature Parks. FOCIS secretary Leah and committee members David and Jeff (who took the photo), are pictured with Phillip Island Nature Parks staff in attendance: CI Farm Activities Officer Peter Officer and curator Andrea Cleland. Also pictured is PINP volunteer co-ordinator, now home from visiting family in Canada, Helen Masters. L-r: Andrea, Helen, David, Peter and Leah.

Our Special AGM guest speaker!!

Sally O'Neill has a long history of involvement on Churchill Island, most significantly as co-ordinator of the major restoration of Amess House, Rogers Cottages, the building of the Visitor Centre and lots of other CI projects. Sally also ran most of the big festivals that occurred on CI over many years. We look forward to hearing her speak at our AGM about the Amess House 1999-2000 restoration – “From the Stumps Up!”
